HONOR FOR TROOP 2

GLENDALE BOY SCOUTS GUESTS OF PASADENA'S LARGEST TROOP

Last night Troop 2 of the Glendale Boy Scouts went over to Pasadena in autos by special invitation of Troop 5 of Pasadena, the members of which had prepared a special entertainment for them. Troop 2 was under the charge of Benjamin Robinson, assistant scoutmaster, and ten members besides himself were in the party.

The program opened with yells by the two troops and then the jazz band of the Pasadena troop rendered several classic selections. This was followed by a most interesting talk by Mr. Sloan, troop committeeman of Pasadena, and then four "tenderfoots" were initiated as members of Troop 5. This was a very exciting part of the program and the Glendale boys voted it a great success. More music followed, games were played, and then Talman H. Trask, scout executive of Pasadena, told of his trip to the Balloon School at Arcadia, which proved very interesting. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were then served and adjournment followed. The Glendale boys considered it a high honor to be invited as the special guests of Troop 5, the largest in Pasadena, numbering over 50 members. Those accompanying Assistant Scoutmaster Robinson were Stillman Chase, Willard Roberts, Robert Frazee, Thomas Wood, Burton Kuntzner, Clifford Wolcott, Burnham Warner, Armond McCormick, Dallas Kalbaugh and C. G. Farrow. These Glendale boys were delighted to learn that the scoutmaster of Pasadena troop is W. I. Hildebrand, a former teacher in Glendale High.

BAIRD AND YOUNG TO BUILD BUNGALOW COURT

A white cement bungalow court is to be erected on North Orange between Doran and Burchett, in the very near future, for A. L. Baird and Dr. T. C. Young. The plans are almost ready and work is expected to begin this month. The location is on the west side of Orange, just above Nathan Rigdon's new houses, on a plat of ground with 100 feet frontage and extending back 182 feet. There will be nine bungalows of four rooms and bath, each, and a garage for six machines. It will represent an investment of over $30,000.

LUNCHEON REUNION

MRS. MINNIE PATTERSON ENTERTAINS GROUP OF FORMER RESIDENTS

In honor of Mrs. Greer, house guest of Mrs. Harry Spalding, Mrs. Minnie Patterson of Riverdale Drive entertained with a mid-day luncheon Tuesday a group of old friends of Mrs. Spalding and herself some of whom have returned to Glendale to live after an absence. The prettily appointed table was centered with narcissi and beautiful pink carnations were employed for the decoration of the living room. The list of invited guests included Mrs. E. Schuyler and little son, who until recently have been living in Arizona, Mrs. R. G. Payne, of Bakersfield, Miss E. Bingham of Orange, Mrs. Greer of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Harry Spalding, Mrs. E. D. Yard, George J. Lyon and little son, Bobbie. Following the luncheon the ladies spent a delightful social afternoon talking over old times.

SEARCH INSTITUTED FOR RUNAWAY BOYS

Leo McGuire and Gordon Kingsley, two of the boys who ran away from home over a week ago, have not been heard from and their parents have instituted a state-wide search for them. Fred Conner, who started out with the other two, has returned fully satisfied with his experience. He says he left the others at Altadena and did not know where they expected to go.

PENMANSHIP CERTIFICATES

After the city schools were closed on Monday a communication was received at the Intermediate from the headquarters of the Zaner Method of Writing in Columbus, Ohio, stating that the samples of writing which had been forwarded from certain pupils in that school indicated they had acquired a proficiency which would entitle them to the seventh and eighth grade certificates which the company issues. The list included: Dorothy Young (seventh grade), Herbert Jones, Ruth Dana, Ivy Matthews, and Gladys White of the eighth grade. Others who forwarded specimens of penmanship and who failed will be permitted to try again.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

MEASURE TO PROVIDE FOR CHIEF EXECUTIVE IN EVENT OF DISABILITY OF PRESIDENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—A constitutional amendment giving Congress and the Supreme Court power to authorize the vice president or ranking cabinet officer to assume the duties of the president during the disability of the chief executive, has been prepared by Representative Fess of Ohio for introduction in the House.

Fess would have the constitution so amended that the houses of Congress by concurrent resolution could declare that the president is unable to serve after a finding of the facts by the Supreme Court. In case Congress was not in session when the president became disabled the Fess amendment would give the vice president power to call it in special session for the purpose of determining whether the chief executive is able to function.

PROSECUTION BUILDS STRONG CASE

TESTIMONY IN CENTRALIA ARMISTICE DAY MURDER TRIAL SHOWS THOROUGH I. W. W. ORGANIZATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MONTESANO, Wash., Feb. 18.—The first phase of the Armistice Day murder trials in which eleven I. W. W.s are accused of ambushing an American Legion parade, will be brought to a close today when the prosecution rests. The state, according to all observers here, has built up a strong case that will test the boast of the defense that "before the trial is over all will admit that the defendants fired to protect their property." Witnesses have declared that so thoroughly was the alleged ambush organized that an actual massacre resulted within one minute's time. One witness testified that probably 150 shots were fired in less than a minute.

BIDS FOR GERMAN SHIPS

SCRUTINIZED BY SENATE COMMERCE COMMITTEE; ANOTHER AUCTION WILL BE HELD IN MARCH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The Senate commerce committee today scrutinized the bids received by the Shipping Board for former German ships. Chairman Payne, head of the board, was called before the committee to present the figures and explain them. Payne told the committee the Shipping Board had already rejected the bids and that another auction will be held next month subject to the approval of Congress. Senators on the committee planned to make careful comparisons between the estimated value of the vessels and the amounts bid.

ROUND-UP OF DRAFT DESERTERS

WAR DEPARTMENT SAYS ITS LIST OF 173,911 WILL BE PROSECUTED VIGOROUSLY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—A round-up of wilful draft deserters will be started at once, the war department announced today. There are 173,911 listed as draft deserters. They will be prosecuted vigorously, it was stated.

ORGY OF SPENDING

THEODORE PEIRCE SAYS INDUSTRIAL SITUATION LIKE "DOG CHASING ITS TAIL"

Theodore Peirce, of 317 Vine St., who returned last Saturday from a business trip to the East says that he had a chance to sample all kinds of winter weather, for he was in New York City during the four-day blizzard there when not a surface car nor a taxi moved. The subway trains were in operation, of course, so business continued to be transacted in spite of the handicaps imposed by the weatherman up aloft. The underground trains, however, were terribly crowded. Business was also interfered with by the "flu" which was much more general than reports indicated, though in a milder form than last year.

The thing that most impressed Mr. Peirce seems to have been the orgy of spending, which prevails everywhere. He says there is no market for anything except the better class of merchandise. Goods that formerly found ready sale among workingmen they will have none of now. They are buying the best of clothing and making their other purchases on the same scale. He describes the situation as exactly like a dog chasing his tail. Prices advance and then wages go up to meet the advance, then prices go up again on account of the cost of labor, and so it goes. Last year the financial leaders counseled prudence in spending, warning that the present expansion and business activity could not last, but they seem to have changed their viewpoint and now predict this period of "prosperity" will continue for several years or until the world can catch up in production and replace the destruction of the war.

Mr. Peirce also says that some of his business acquaintances in New York who have been abroad recently assured him that things are not so bad over there as we have been led to believe. Everywhere in the East he found labor very scarce and a disposition to make the most of the present and "have our fling while we are at it."

REDDS BUY AND LOCATE IN GLENDALE

Harry Redd and wife and their daughter, Cleo Helen, are again residents of Glendale, Mr. Redd having bought the seven-room house and grounds at 214 East Garfield Avenue, of W. E. Burk, formerly of South Central Avenue, but now living in Ocmulgee, Okla. Mrs. Redd is a sister of Holman and Misses Addie, Clara and Alice Midcalf, and has lived in Glendale twice before. The family left here in 1909 for Honolulu and Mrs. Redd came back to Glendale a few years later when her mother died. A year or two after this they came back to Glendale to live and later moved to Los Angeles. The old home still had its attractions, however, so they concluded to buy and locate here permanently. Mr. Redd is an employe of the Southern California Telephone Company.

SILVER WEDDING CELEBRATION

The 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Smith was celebrated at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Lewis F. La Mont, 529 N. Jackson, Monday evening. Silver decorations and souvenirs were appropriate features. The event also served as a dedication of the new Colonial bungalow home of the La Monts, recently completed. A few close friends were invited, and there were present, in addition to these and the host and hostess, Arthur Smith, a son, and little Gwendolyn La Mont, grand-daughter of the honorees.

HOME FOR BRIDE

GUY PIXLEY BUILDING HOUSE FOR OCCUPANCY OF HIMSELF AND WIFE-TO-BE

A building permit issued yesterday to John G. Pixley revealed an interesting romance. This permit was for a four-room residence at 400 West Harvard, and Guy Pixley is the young man who secured it. He is building it as a home for himself and his bride-to-be, Miss Eva Gould of 311 South Central avenue. They were childhood sweethearts and when Guy returned from his long service "over there" as a member of the 40th division, the renewed intimacy culminated in an engagement to marry, which was recently announced by the young lady's parents, Ira E. Gould and wife, at an evening gathering of young friends of Miss Eva, most of them members of her Sunday school class in the West Glendale Methodist church, taught by Mrs. Flora Pixley, Guy's mother. Those present on this occasion as guests were Misses Marjorie Singleton, Ruth Spafford, Alda and Irene Jervis, Lela Whitehead, Irene Jones, Willa May Hobbs, Nina Dana, Anne Cookman, Helen Gould and Olive Pixley, and Mrs. Flora Pixley of Glendale; Mrs. Ada Gilbert and her sister, Miss Sarah Stoneham of Los Angeles, cousins of the bride-to-be. American Beauty roses were used as decorations for the rooms and for a center table on which were two kewpies dressed as bride and groom, and a dish of stuffed dates—stuffed with neat announcements of the engagement on slips of paper tightly rolled.

Immediately after his return from overseas Guy went to work as outside plumber for his brother-in-law, W. P. MacArthur of Los Angeles. His work has recently called him to Santa Ana, Taft, Bakersfield and other cities. The wedding date has not been announced.

A very pleasant but entirely informal function was given by Mrs. Frank Arnold Saturday afternoon at her pleasant home on East Lomita as a benefit for the Tuesday Afternoon Club building fund. Ladies present besides the hostess and hr sister, Mrs. Brant, who assisted her sister, Mrs. Brant, who assisted Hawkes, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Vesper, Mrs. R. E. Chase, Mrs. H. Nelson, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Inglehart, Miss Thomas and Mrs. Marple.

NORTHERN NEW YORK GUESTS

Rev. and Mrs. D. F. Pierce of Watertown, New York, who have been spending the winter in California, were guests for two days this week of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nesbit of 338 Hawthorn street. Rev. Pierce was their pastor for five years while they were living at Rome, N. Y. Since that time he has served as presiding elder and district superintendent in many different districts in Northern New York and was placed on the superannuated list last spring. He and Mrs. Pierce expect to return to the east about the 20th of March. They have been making their headquarters at one of the beach towns but were so delighted with Glendale they were sorry they had not located here instead.

DIBBERN-VOGT

On Saturday, February 14, 1920, in San Francisco, Owen Stanley Dibbern of Glendale, was united in marriage to Miss Florence Belle Vogt of San Francisco. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dibbern of 514 S. Glendale avenue, this city. Owen Dibbern, commonly called "Dib" by his associates, is a graduate of the Glendale Union High School and is well known in the social and business circles of Glendale. He served in the world war for more than a year, being overseas many months.

Mrs. Dibbern is a daughter of Mrs. Anna Vogt, formerly a resident of Glendale, but now of San Francisco.

This young couple will reside in San Francisco where Mr. Dibbern has a good position.

The phrase "with such reservations" was stricken out before adoption.

ALLIES ASK FOR SUGGESTIONS

DO NOT WANT U. S. TO STAND ALOOF OR WITHDRAW SHIPS AND MEN FROM ADRIATIC

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The allies have asked President Wilson to make further suggestions for a settlement of the Adriatic question, according to available information today as to the contents of the reply to President Wilson's protest against the proposed settlement. The reply was decoded at the State Department today but it was announced that it would not be made public and that Wilson's original protest would also be with-held.

At the White House it was said there was no immediate intention of making public either of the documents. Wilson's intimation that the treaty might be withdrawn from the Senate if the allies persisted in their course was met, it was reported, by the statement that the allies do not want the United States to stand aloof or to recall the American ships and men in the Adriatic patrol. The president, it is believed, will answer the allied note by outlining a course of action which will be agreeable to him.

FOOTHILL TEAPARTY

Last Thursday Mrs. Alexander Mitchell of 2001 Kenneth Road entertained for the benefit of the Tuesday Afternoon Club building fund and in honor of five ladies whose names she had proposed for membership in the club. In recognition of Lincoln's birthday the guests at the request of their hostess had provided themselves with quotations from the writings of Abraham Lincoln, and the company united in singing the "Star Spangled Banner" and "America." The hostess introduced the program with a little patriotic talk. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon, the guest list including: Mrs. Dan Campbell, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Toll, Mrs. Jamison, Mrs. George Mitchell, Mrs. William Mackey (sister-in-law of the hostess) Mrs. George Montgomery, Mrs. Olmstead, Mrs. Conner, Mrs. Emerson, Mrs. Nesselrode, Mrs. England, Mrs. Oliver Clark, Dr. Kate Black, Mrs. George Mitchell (daughter-in-law of the hostess) her mother, Mrs. Wagner, from Columbus, Ohio, and Miss Jeannie Mitchell.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE FOR REV. COLE

Several members of Central Christian Church surprised Rev. and Mrs. Clifford A. Cole Monday evening and helped to celebrate his thirty-ninth birthday. They took with them the necessary supplies and spread a regular dinner, which all greatly enjoyed. Some highly valued presents were given Rev. Cole, among them a birthday card autographed with the names of many members of church and Sunday school.

THREE IN ONE

When Theodore Roosevelt said that there are three parties in every industrial dispute, namely, capital, labor, and the public, he took a step in advance by recognizing, and forcing others to recognize, the third element.

The industrial conference at Washington took cognizance of this division by drawing its membership from those three classes and dividing into those three groups.

Prophecy is hazardous, but I venture to prophesy that we shall never have peace in this striking world until we cease to think of three groups and think only of one.

For capital, labor, and the public have only one interest, and should have only one method and only one organization. We have tried tri-operation long enough; now let us try co-operation.

MORE COMING

It was a special occasion for the fourth form, and the headmaster, instead of the form master, was taking the callover. The great man solemnly and impressively called out each name and received from each equally solemn lad the correct answer: "Adsum," until he came to our funny boy, "Grinny." To our intense delight "Grinny" broke out with a loud "Hadsum," giving tremendous emphasis to the aspirate. The "head" raised his eyebrows as far as they would go, let them down again, and in the iciest of tones said: "Oh, Mr. ——, have you? Come and have some more." And he did.—The London Morning Post.

P. O. STATION 14 CLOSED

According to a report which reached the Evening News at 12:20 o'clock this noon, via Dr. Henry R. Harrower, Postal Station No. 14, in the Bank of Glendale Building, at the corner of Broadway and Glendale Avenue, has been closed by the postoffice authorities and all equipment there belonging to the government has been removed. This will make it necessary for all residents of that district to transact all postoffice business with the main station on Brand Boulevard which will be a very great inconvenience to business men in that part of the city because of the distance they will be compelled to go. The reason for this change, as explained by the doctor, is that the Bank of Glendale, which has been very generously permitting the government to use the room rent free, is now very justly asking for rent, which the government is unwilling to pay. The doctor states also that the salary paid Mr. Morrison, the postal clerk, and to Mrs. Myton, his predecessor, has been but $8 per month.

BIDS WANTED

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale will receive bids up to 8 o'clock p. m., February 26, 1920, for the following supplies for the Public Service Department:

300 ¾ curb cocks.
25 1 curb cocks.
250 ¾ corporation cocks.
40 1 corporation cocks.
250 ¾ lead flange to iron pipe connections.
40 1 lead flange to iron pipe connections.

To be as per specifications on file with City Clerk.

The right is reserved of rejecting any or all bids.

ADVENTISTS IN SESSION

Pacific Union field for the next four years, Elder Christian said, "I feel keenly the responsibility which comes to an individual in so large a conference as this. I appreciate the co-operation and helpfulness of my fellow workers. Those who have labored with me in counsel have been loyal men. I appreciate their help. Were I to choose my associates in labor, I would make no change in those which have been selected. The last two years have been years of perplexities, and the next few years may be equally so, but God is never taken by surprise. I give to him anew my heart and my life. I promise you the best service I can give under God. I covet your words of helpfulness and your suggestions, that in unity of heart and action we may go steadily forward with the gospel work committed to our hands."

The Glendale Sanitarium board of management in counsel with the Southern California Conference has decided to erect an emergency ward in connection with the Glendale Sanitarium, in order to assist in meeting the influenza situation. This building will be erected at once at a cost of about $1000. It will be located on the corner of Isabel and Wilson streets, where the Adventist church formerly stood.

Recommendations also were brought before the conference and received hearty support, calling upon every church member in the Adventist ranks to do all possible in alleviating suffering incident to the epidemic, and in giving simple and rational treatments wherever needed. Elder Arthur G. Daniells, president of the General Conference, in discussing the recommendations, told of the uniform success which has attended Seventh-day Adventist sanitariums, physicians, and nurses in treating the "flu." "Most of our sanitariums report that they have lost very few cases," said Mr. Daniells. "This is not boasting. I am prepared to verify the statement that our Washington, D. C., Sanitarium has scarcely lost a case of influenza. Those cases which have proved fatal, came to the institution in such advanced stages that there was little chance of recovery. Even in cases where it was advanced to such an extent that pneumonia developed while the patients were in the sanitariums, they recovered. The experience of our Washington Sanitarium has been the same as our institutions at Melrose, Hinsdale and many other parts of the country. I am told it was the same here on the Pacific Coast. I talked with one of our physicians who has had hundreds of cases and who has not lost any, except one or two which did not come to him until the disease had progressed to an advanced stage. Although our lay members can not go out as trained nurses, they can render the public a great service. From the humanitarian standpoint it is our duty to do all in our power in helping those afflicted with this disease."

Steps taken for the unifying and strengthening of the Seventh-day Adventist publishing, educational and evangelistic work were outlined by Elder Daniells at yesterday morning's session. The Review and Herald Publishing Association of Washington, D. C., he said, has assumed responsibility for the upbuilding of Adventist publishing interests in Canada, Great Britain and Africa. The Pacific Press Publishing Association, located at Mountain View, Cal., has assumed responsibility for the denominational publishing work in the Orient. The Southern Publishing Association, located at Nashville, Tenn., will labor for the development of Adventist publishing interests in Europe and South America, and the Australian publishing house will extend its efforts in publishing lines to the islands of the South Pacific Ocean.

Concerning the educational work, Elder Daniells said: "Twenty years ago our educational work was comparatively unorganized. Today we can place one of our children in our primary grades and allow him to continue his education in our parochial schools, academies and colleges until he graduates. Our educational institutions are doing efficient work."

A large number of ministers and conference workers from the Pacific Coast states will be assigned to foreign service under the Seventh-day Adventist Foreign Mission Board within the next few months, according to present indications. A company of between forty and fifty gathered in the Adventist Church after the service Monday evening to consult with Elder Daniells concerning arrangements for work in foreign lands. Circumstances may prevent some of these from crossing the seas to enter denominational work in distant countries, but it is probable that many of them will be sent out some time this summer.

Claude Conard, of St. Helena, Cal., on behalf of Mr. B. M. Emerson, secretary-treasurer of the Pacific Union Conference, submitted yesterday afternoon the treasurer's quadrennial report, showing remarkable growth in all lines. Mr. Conard said: "There has been received in tithe and offerings to missions and for other purposes, $1,343,799.91. Of this sum the mission offerings have amounted to $677,336.81. An idea of the annual growth can be obtained from the fact that the trust funds handled by the Pacific Union Conference have jumped from $245,527.48, the amount for 1916, to $440,046.93, the sum for 1919. Another indication of the very large gifts made by Seventh-day Adventists for evangelical work is seen in the fact that last month the contributions to missions from the Pacific Coast field averaged $.45-63 a week per member. The Arizona Conference made the largest record, with a weekly average per member of $.77-14.

Mr. J. J. Ireland of Washington, D. C., auditor of the General Conference, commenting upon Mr. Emerson's report, contrasted it with the Seventh-day Adventist work on the Pacific Coast nineteen years ago. At that time the Pacific Union Conference extended to the Canadian border, and included, in addition to California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah, the states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho. The membership was then 6000, while today, Mr. Ireland said, observers of the seventh-day Sabbath on the Pacific Coast number 22,000. "Our resources have grown," he said, "but the demands of our work are ahead of our resources. There is still a larger work before us. We are just beginning to touch the edges of what is to be done. Our publishing evangelical and educational work in the Orient are rapidly advancing. We have established a college at Shanghai to care for the young men and young women who wish to prepare themselves for gospel service. By next year we shall have a sixteen-grade school. Our standard of educational work in the Oriental fields is to be as high as the standard here.

"The ordinary educational institution does not expect to meet expenses, but seeks a big endowment fund. Its tuition is never expected to cover its expenses. We have changed that order and have brought our colleges and academies into line so that they are now working upon the budget plan."

The topic of the morning conference session was the plan to make February 28 to March 6 a soul-saving week for the young people of the conference. The resolution met with an enthusiastic reception by the delegates, many of whom spoke briefly.

Prof. W. W. Ruble, young people's secretary of the Pacific Union Conference, introduced the subject by rendering his quadrennial report, in which he said three persons beside himself have, in succession, been in charge of the young people's department in this field during the past four years, namely, Prof. M. E. Cady, Elder B. E. Beddoe, and Elder M. N. Helligso. He said there are 148 young people's missionary volunteer societies in the Pacific Union Conference, with a membership of 4057. The number of conversions for the four years was 1062, and the total sum raised for missions by the societies, $32,160. The goal set for 1920 is $20,000. Other items of interest are the number of baptisms, 1452, and 62,623 hours spent in what is known as Christian help work. The latter item refers to any material assistance given without thought of compensation.

As an example of the helpfulness of the young people's societies Mr. Ruble mentioned a society of fifty-five members, all but seven of whom after 15 years are actively engaged in missionary work. One member became a Union Conference president; two became local conference presidents; four are secretaries of departments in the denomination while others are teachers, nurses and colporteurs.

During the young people's soul-saving week proposed for February 28 to March 6 special evangelical and personal work will be done in all the Seventh-day Adventist churches in behalf of the young.

Elder Meade MacGuire, field secretary of the Adventist young people's work in North America, west of the Mississippi, said the recent effort conducted by the Christian Endeavorers and Epworth League in Glendale and elsewhere is a most commendable example of soul-winning effort.

Among other speakers were Elders J. A. Burden of San Diego, M. C. Wilcox of Mountain View, J. H. Christian, H. S. Shaw of Fresno, G. B. Starr of Loma Linda, R. S. Owen of San Diego and Clarence Santee of Lodi.

Speakers emphasized the importance of soul-saving work for the young beginning in the homes. The home life, it was urged, must be lifted to a high spiritual level. When young people drift out into the world the cause is often in the home—lack of spirituality, sympathy, interest and counsel.

"Many temptations beset the paths of young people today to the peril of their temporal and eternal welfare. This situation must be met by methods that will not drive them farther away. Prayer and timely instruction must be combined. We must recognize the intentions and efforts of our youth to do right. Faith in God plus at least a little faith in John or Mary will help to make of a discouraged child a hopeful young Christian. As the strength of the nation is in its young people so also is the strength of the church."

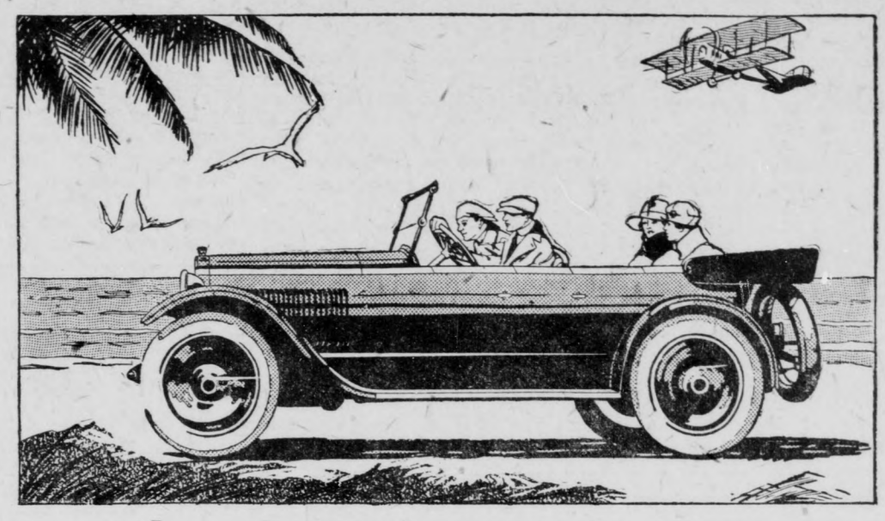
CHANDLER SIX
Famous For Its Marvelous Motor



If You Don't Want to Wait Next Spring, Order Now

LAST year's production of the Chandler Six was of record volume and this year's production will double it; but if you don't want to wait for your new Chandler next spring, we would suggest that you order it now.

This year's automobile shows have attracted crowds greater than ever before, partly perhaps because hundreds of thousands of Americans were unable to secure new cars last year. And these great crowds of motor enthusiasts have found no better value in the whole exhibit of six cylinder cars than that which Chandler offers.

Chandler leads so distinctly in the medium-priced fine car field because it does offer such splendid value; because of its really marvelous motor developed through seven years of production in the Chandler plant and seven years' service on the road in the hands of a host of owners; because of its sturdy, dependable mechanical construction throughout the entire chassis; and because of its attractive and comfortable body.

Compare them all, all the sixes, then pick out yours. It will be a Chandler if you ask Chandler owners.

EDDIE O'DONNELL TO DRIVE HUDSON SIX

Word has just been received at the Hudson camp that Eddie O'Donnell has secured Patterson's Hudson Super-Six for the speedway races. O'Donnell will make his first appearance Monday morning on the speedway and those best posted on racing dope say that Eddie should make a strong contender for the prize money in the big race.

Harking back to the Santa Monica Grand Prix and Vanderbilt cup races of November, 1916, it will be remembered that Pat's Super-Six broke the non-stop road race record for the world, smashing all previous records by 100 miles in the Grand Prix and beating his previous non-stop record made in the same car in the Vanderbilt cup race the day before.

Since that memorable day Patterson has won numerous fiercely contested races on some of the best tracks on the Pacific Coast.

According to O'Donnell the Hudson is in finer trim now than ever before. It has a speed of well over 100 miles an hour and has the same stamina which characterized it in the Santa Monica road races three years ago.

Perhaps the Super-Six has not the whirlwind speed which the fans credit to the Frontenacs and some of the other speed demons which will start on the speedway race next Saturday, but O'Donnell says that the Hudson ability to everlastingly go and keep on going will put him in the money and he will be a strong contender with the best of the field.

PLAYERS' CLUB

A meeting of the Players' Club was held Tuesday evening at St. Mark's Church as planned, but on account of the influenza scare the attendance was not as large as expected. In the absence of other officers the assembly was called to order by the secretary and a brief informal business session was held. The treasurer read the financial report and the music section announced plans for a musicale to be given about the middle of March. The tennis section was organized and a committee appointed, headed by W. M. Winger as chairman, assisted by Richardson D. White and Albert Sullivan. A court has already been secured and play will begin almost immediately.

READING CIRCLE

EDUCATIONAL BENEFITS OF WAR DISCUSSED AND MODERN DRESS PROBLEMS

Much interest was shown in a discussion of the dress problems in our High Schools as it was presented at a recent meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle. It was argued that as mothers wear suitable costumes for their housework so the daughters should have proper costumes for their school work.

A splendid review of an article taken from a monthly periodical entitled, "Education Through Violence," was given by Mrs. E. L. Young.

Mrs. Young brought out the following points: "Through the lessons learned in the war we, as a nation, are finding ourselves educationally.

"It is now time to discuss the life blood and not the bones of education. The time of the textbook has gone. The main thing in education is to be the training of the mind, not the manner in which it is done.

"The men who have had the advantage of education through the war are superior to the men educated through the textbook and should have the handling of our young people. The one thing that has saved America educationally is that all American life is educational."

Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, upon request, told of her visit to Juvenile Hall as the guest of Dr. Van Waters. She had supper with the boys in Juvenile Hall and then gave them humorous readings for an hour or more. Mrs. Moore made a plea for people with musical talent to get in touch with Dr. Van Waters and offer to help give these boys a little of the soul food for which they crave.

Taking advantage of Mrs. Toll's absence at the telephone, Mrs. E. L. Young spoke of how very near to Mrs. Toll's heart is the work for the girls of the world and her interest in the Y. W. C. A. She asked that the Circle give something for the work in the name of the Circle. It was voted to give Mrs. Toll ten dollars for the work. Mrs. Toll when told expressed her appreciation and pleasure.

Owing to the influenza epidemic there will be no Reading Circle meetings till the ban is lifted.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Myers, who are comparatively new comers residing on Central Avenue, near Los Feliz Road, bears a blue sign. Their daughter, Miss Lina Myers, who teaches in the Huntington Park schools, has influenza. Other victims on the same street are Miss Dorothy Koepke and Andrew Stephenson. Mr. Stephenson is well enough to be up and about, but not yet released for business.

113 S. BRAND BOULEVARD

Why Does the Union High School Welfare Association Oppose the Issuing of $425,000 in Bonds at the Present Time?

BECAUSE the present location is fast becoming undesirable for High School purposes.

BECAUSE we do not deem it wise to put $309,000 more into new buildings on an undesirable location.

BECAUSE the prevailing high prices make all unnecessary building inadvisable at this time.

BECAUSE the $43,000 proposed to be spent for one acre on Brand Boulevard will buy a new school site in an ideal location.

BECAUSE approximately $150,000 will not only provide for ample additions to the present plant for present needs, but will also buy the new school site.

BECAUSE the future sale of present property, with the additions made as proposed by the Union High School Welfare Association, should practically finance the new high school building when the right time arrives.

BECAUSE we realize that to the extent that new individual buildings are erected on the present site does that property become the more difficult to dispose of without enormous and unpardonable waste.

THEREFORE, BUY LAND NOW. BUILD WHEN PRICES ARE RIGHT. VOTE NO

NATIONAL PROHIBITION AND LIFE INSURANCE

National prohibition is coming along in such a quiet, unassuming way that we are apt to take it for granted to such an extent as to overlook the vast changes it will produce in our social and economic life. Most of us are too busy to spend much time pondering over the abstract questions involved in such a far-reaching reform; but we are all keenly interested in this: How will prohibition affect life insurance?

Here are a few plain, brief facts that will answer that question. More people will be able to get life insurance, because prohibition will eliminate one of the princical causes of physical rejection. More people will want life insurance, because, as prohibition will lower the death rate, there will be more people. More people will be able to get insurance, because they will have more money for that purpose. Everywhere that prohibition has been enforced there has been a remarkable growth in the savings habit. More people will want insurance, because prohibition will spread the doctrine of thrift and the protection of old age and the home.

If anybody had told you five years ago that five years hence a combination of circumstances would produce a demand for life insurance that would be more than twice as great as that of ordinary times, you would have labeled him a wild eyed theorist, if you had paid any attention to him at all. Yet exactly that has happened, although no one could have foreseen it.

It required the death, disease, suffering, wreckage and waste of over four years of war, together with an epidemic equally tragic in its results, to teach the lesson that has resulted in the present demand for life insurance. It is a lesson that has been well learned. Prohibition will teach the same lesson and many more will learn it. The sphere of the agent will be broadened and his opportunity for service and reward will increase proportionately.—Fidelity Field Man.

PREPARE NOW FOR ARBOR DAY

Plant a tree. Begin now to line county highways and city streets with appropriate trees than can be unveiled and dedicated with ceremonies on Arbor Day.

California celebrates Arbor Day on Luther Burbank's birthday, March 7. This year, as never before, hundreds of trees should be planted throughout the length and breadth of California.

This is the advice of State Forester G. M. Homans who is cooperating with civic improvement clubs and other organizations seeking to secure the planting of the greatest number of trees this year.

"A new incentive exists" declares State Forester Homans. "The question has been asked: 'What better memorial to our dead heroes than a flourishing tree?'"

Then, too, there is the agitation throughout the Nation for tree lined highways. California is noted for its good roads and as a result should be foremost in lining its roads with shade trees.

Arbor Day ceremonies should also emphasize the relationship of forested areas in general to the general prosperity of the State and Nation. At this time when the necessity of preserving the forest wealth of the world rises to prominence, Arbor Day ceremonies should embody the words of the great American, Roosevelt, who said:

"A people without children would face a hopeless future; a country without trees is almost as helpless; forests which are so used that they cannot renew themselves will soon vanish, and with them all their benefits. A true forest is not only a storehouse full of wood, but, as it were, a factory of wood, and at the same time a reservoir of water. When you help to preserve our forests or plant new ones you are acting the part of good citizenship."

THE PRODUCERS' DUTY

Mr. Baruch, chairman of the public group of the ill-fated Industrial Conference in Washington, said in his summary of the sessions that "what was not brought out clearly is that both capital and labor owe to society—which is inclusive of capital and labor—the duty to produce in quantity, at the lowest possible cost commensurate with the protection of both capital and labor, all of the 'things' that are necessary to keep up the proper, just, and humane standards of modern life."

Those words should be written in letters of gold on the walls of every factory and counting-room.

Production is the duty of producers.
Production of the largest amount.
Production of the greatest variety.
Production of the best quality.
Production at the lowest cost.
Not private gain, though that is necessary, but the public good.

And the public is getting aroused to see that hereafter producers shall produce—or quit.

UNCLE SAM'S CLERICAL ARMY

If it is true that, fourteen months after the signing of the arm istice, there are nearly as many government employes in Washingto as there were in the heavy press of war work, certainly somethin ought to be done about it.

In November, 1918, there were about 105,000 of them. In 191 there had been 35,000. War exigencies doubtless required the mult plication of a clerical army, but why should the demobilization of tha force be delayed so long after the demobilization of the fightin army?

It is a matter not for hasty condemnation, but for careful in quiry. There is much war work of a clerical nature still unfinishe of course, and there are new departments and bureaus growing ou of the war that will be permanent. The government payroll ca never again be so small as it was before the war. But there seem to be a tendency in Washington to hang onto jobs long after th occasion for them is past and federal departments have long bee notoriously tolerant of sinecures. A senator declared recently tha many of the clerks, by their own confession were not doing mo than two hours' honest work a day. If that is true, there ought t be a prompt thinning of the ranks.

Aside from the needless cost to the government, there are to many people living in Washington for the good of the capital, an the men who are not required there could be used to advantag eleswhere.—Long Beach Telegram.

A four-room house was moved yesterday for Mr. Piper from 336 West Cerritos Avenue to the corner of Lomita and Glendale avenues. It was hauled the entire distance by two auto trucks of medium size and the move was made in less than two hours. This is quite an improvement over the windlass method.

L. Hugo of 815 South Mariposa was advised to insert an advertisement for chickens for sale in the Glendale Evening News three days. Mr. and Mrs. L. O. MaGown and son, Leonard, who have been visiting Mr. MaGowan's sister, Mrs. Ina Randolph, of North Jackson Street, are leaving today for their home in South Dakota. They are not going directly home, however, but will stop in Denver, Colo., to visit a brother of Mr. MaGowan's and from there will visit other relatives and friends in the State of Iowa before returning home.

Mrs. Will Miller and Mrs. Ralph Miller, sisters-in-law, recently arrived from Canton, Ohio, to spend a couple of months in Southern California and have located in Glendale in an apartment at 114 West Broadway, where they will be near Mrs. C. D. Shattuck, who is an acquaintance of theirs. They are so delighted with the city and the climate that Mrs. Will Miller is already talking of persuading her husband and children to transfer their residence.

J. B. Markey of Morrison, Ill., father of Mrs. C. O. Pulliam, is here for the winter and is enjoying a great many sightseeing trips under the direction of Mrs. Pulliam and accompanied by Illinois friends who are here. Mr. Markey is the president of the Automatic Refrigerator Company, a large manufacturing concern in Morrison, and brought his automobile west with him.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Douglas Balthis spent the week end at Arrowhead Springs.

Mrs. David Black also gave an interesting account of work among the Indians. These meetings are held every month and all the ladies of the Presbyterian Church, under one president, with the three divisions mentioned—the Missionary, Work and Group Departments—accomplish a great deal of good as well as enjoying these splendid times of fellowship together.

JUVENILE LIBRARY SCHEDULE

With the juvenile department separated from that of adults on the main floor of the city library, a reorganization of the service has become necessary, as the juvenile department is now open continuously from 2 to 8:30 p. m. Mrs. Danford takes her turn at the juvenile desk and that is where she can usually be found when she is missed from the upstairs desk.

FUNERAL OF MRS. CARRIE WATLING

The funeral of Mrs. Carrie Watling, who died very suddenly of apoplexy Monday morning at her home, 624 East Maple, will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Little Church of the Flowers, Rev. E. E. Ford officiating. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Cemetery.

VISITOR FROM NORTH

A. L. Smalley of Sprague, Washington, is spending a month's vacation at the S. C. Kinch home at 328 North Brand Boulevard. Mr. Smalley is president of the Bank of Sprague and he and Mr. Kinch were formerly associated as officials of that institution. The visitor finds our winter climate very delightful and in striking contrast to the weather in the Sprague country, which, at one time in December, reached 30 degrees below zero. He found quite a number of former Washingtonians in Glendale and on Saturday last he organized a theatre party which attended the performance at Grauman's, after which they enjoyed a dinner at the New Rosslyn Hotel. Glendale residents making up the party were: S. C. Kinch and daughter, Franc, of 328 N. Brand; Mr. and Mrs. Jack McElroy, Mrs. Lucy Young, Mrs. William Harker and Miss Mina Smith of West Doran street, and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Schrader and daughter, Reita, of 1224 Dorothy Drive. Mr. Smalley will visit friends at San Diego and expects to return to Sprague about March 5. It is predicted that he will, at some time in the future, become a resident of this favored city.

COLONIAL REMINISCENCES

The literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club met at the home of Mrs. Frank Ayars at 315 North Orange street yesterday afternoon. The section had planned an open meeting which would be in the nature of a colonial tea, but abandoned their design when Mrs. Hutchinson, curator of the section became ill. Inasmuch as no program had been arranged for this meeting the ladies decided to make it an afternoon of colonial reminiscences, and it proved a happy thought. The informal discussion of those times revealed that a good many in attendance were descendants of distinguished men who fought in the Revolutionary war. Mrs. George Adams admitted that her husband had been a direct descendant of President Adams. Mrs. Harriet White had several ancestors who distinguished themselves in the Revolutionary war. Pictures of some of the early colonial homes were passed around, and there was general discussion of those stately mansions and of Mount Vernon. Mrs. Shumway, aunt of Mrs. Hayward, described the home of Israel Putnam, which she had often visited and the wolf den there.

MAN'S INHUMANITY TO BEAST

I have seen horses that were so weak and thin from years of toil and mistreatment that they could hardly raise one foot after another, hitched to a load and made to drag it through the streets, while a great big semblance of a man sat on the seat with a whip in his hand and kept striking them with it every few minutes to make them go faster. Nothing, I suppose, not even hot irons, could have caused them to go faster than a walk. The years had been too long and too cruel. They were too nearly dead. All they could do was to make a feeble lurch forward at each blow, and, after a few quickened steps, lapse again into their painful trudge. And their poor old backs and sides had become so deadened by blows that these parts no longer had nerves; and the driver, instead of whipping them in the ordinary way, struck them over the face and around their ankles and legs, where the flesh was still sensitive.

Talk of vivisection! It is monstrous! But it is not all carried on behind voiceless walls and in the name of science. It goes on, on all our streets, in broad daylight every day. And much of it, I am sorry to say, is to be laid at the feet of men who are themselves crying piteously for justice.

No wonder horses become downcast and apathetic! No wonder they become broken-hearted! No wonder their faces become drawn, and out of their eyes streams solemnity that darkens the faces of the doomed!

Man treats those co-operating with him in the labor of life as mere means to his own selfish purposes. He feeds and shelters them for the same reason that the capitalist feeds and shelters the poor human things who serve him—simply to make them last as long as possible. There is no equity in the matter—no brotherhood—no thought of the Golden Rule. They are to him simply lemons—things to be squeezed, nothing more. And when he has extracted from them every benefit he is able to extract, he casts them out, as the money-hog does his worn-out workmen.

—J. Howard Moore, in "Our Dumb Animals."

MADE $120,000 SPEECH

In commenting upon the death of Mrs. Russell Sage, Chauncey M. Depew, who knew Mrs. Sage for 40 years and was an intimate associate of her husband for a longer period, told how he made a $120,000 speech at her suggestion.

Mr. Depew stated that although Mr. Sage accumulated a vast fortune he rarely gave away any money, adding that the reason for this was the confidence which he reposed in the judgment of his wife as an able and experienced philanthropist. He said that years ago he received a letter from Mrs. Sage inviting him to make an address at the Emma Willard School, at Troy, N. Y., upon the occasion of the donation by Mr. Sage to the school of a large sum of money for use in erecting a building. This was the school of which Mrs. Sage was a graduate.

"I replied," said Mr. Depew, "that I was so overwhelmed with engagements to speak that it would be impossible for me to accept the invitation. In answer I received by special messenger a note from Mrs. Sage, saying: 'Russell is going to give $120,000. He will not give one cent unless you make the speech. This is Russell's first excursion into this field. Don't you think he ought to be encouraged?'

"My immediate reply was: 'I will make that speech.'"

STANCH ONTARIO

The fine Province of Ontario has made its wartime prohibition permanent by the decisive vote of about three to one. Liquor, as usual, hasn't a leg to stand on. This happened at an election which gave the farmers and the labor element a great victory; which shows that the farmers do not want whiskey and beer to get their grain, nor do the laborers want the distilleries and the breweries to pay them wages.

It was a good day's work for Ontario. Canada can.

Don't be an iceberg, an ice-plant, or ice-water; if the Lord had intended you for that, He wouldn't have put a temperature of ninety-eight and three-fifths in your blood. Take the hint.—Gettysburg, Penn.

CHECKING A PRESUMPTION

"There is a rumor that you may be asked to assume leadership of your struggling country," ventured the trusted retainer.

"I have heard such a rumor," answered Wilhelm.

"Well, you may be a painter and a poet and a lot of other things. But there is a limit to human versatility. With your shabby record for truth and veracity, don't you ever try to pose as the George Washington of Germany."

ESSENTIAL TO INDUSTRY

A young negro registrant, claiming exemption, was asked, "How many people are dependent on you?"

He replied: "Two, sah. Paw, he depends on me to find washin' for Maw; and Maw, she depends on me for to hunt wood-choppin' for Paw."—Harper's Magazine.

CONSCIENCE WILL BE THERE

You may be one of those who have accumulated a little money, but not enough to insure you the life of ease which you have planned for your after years.

Perhaps you have made your money by economy and small and honest investments.

You compare your condition with that of some other men who have much more than you possess, but who have the reputation of being unscrupulous in business deals.

You feel that although it is known they are not strictly honest, they are accepted by society because of what they are in a financial way.

You are considering whether a course such as they have pursued would not be better than the one you are following.

Stop this line of thought.

You are considering a dangerous course.

The more you think about it the more likely you are to become influenced by false gods.

Don't forget that while you may dodge the law you can't give your conscience the slip. — Houston (Tex.) Chronicle.

LIFE IN GUATEMALA

Guatemala is a frequent sufferer by earthquakes. The city of Guatemala itself, the present capital, was chosen after Guatemala Antigua, the original capital, was destroyed by a combined earthquake and water burst, either from clouds or the mountain. The new capital stands on an isolated hill, which it was thought would be a site least likely to be shaken. But the whole country bears evidence of what earthquakes have done to it. It is not a rare object to see a high mountain with half of it blown right off. In various communities they tell of having to clear streets of dust that falls to a depth of several feet after a volcanic explosion.

A bunch of boys at Pomona threw stones at a Santa Fe train and broke several car windows, and an officer of the road made their parents promise to give each of them a licking if he would not take the matter into court. That wouldn't have been so bad, but the officer stayed right on the scene till the lickings were administered, which the boys thought was over-doing a mere promise somewhat.

There is such a thing as a worldly spirit, and there is such a thing as an unworldly spirit; and according as we partake of one or the other, the savor of the sacrifice of our lives is ordinary, commonplace, poor, and base; or elevating, invigorating, useful, noble, and holy.—Dean Stanley.

The high school at Redondo nearly burned the other day and the students who were handy worked valiantly to save it. Times aren't like they used to be when youngsters rejoiced whenever a school house burned.

Santa Barbara is facing a brick famine, so it would be a poor place just now to start an argument on the Irish question.

Two Dodge cars collided at a business corner in Orange the other day. Neither one was able to live up to its name.

NO APPETIZER, BUT APPETITE

Now that the cocktail is no more, experts who never have found a flaw in this once popular appetizer feel free to speak their minds about it.

"An appetizer?" demands Copeland Townsend, of the Majestic Hotel. "Why, we have found that it not only failed to produce an appetite, but succeeded in consuming it. Since the public is not drinking cocktails or highballs before and with meals, the course dinner, luncheon, and even breakfast are becoming popular.

"Men who never before thought of ordering desserts or sweets in any form now take heavy desserts. The belief that liquor stimulates the appetite is an erroneous one."—The Christian Herald.

AN OIL FIELD AFTERMATH

Oil fields which yielded a rich harvest 50 years ago and were then abandoned as unprofitable are now to be gone over carefully in the hope of finding further small wells which, at present prices, will be profitable for drilling.

The oil lands of western Pennsylvania and West Virginia are already undergoing a thorough inspection. Years ago, when crude oil was comparatively cheap, only an extra good well was considered a paying proposition. Now, with crude oil about five times as valuable as in those days, the well formerly scorned is looked upon as a pretty good find.

While it is expensive to drill a single small well, modern methods have made it possible to connect many of them with one power plant and to pump them all thoroughly. This and other economies of operation which have been introduced make possible a new branch of thrift. We do not throw away or abandon small things as we used to do. True conservation means the use of every particle of good material—Long Beach Telegram.

THIRD POLITICAL PARTY

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 18.—A third political party will contest for the presidency in the coming campaign as a result of the national convention of liberals to be held in Chicago June 3d, the "Committee of Forty-Eight" announced today.

Ventura county almost lost three citizens last week from drinkink wood alcohol. The wood alcoholers blame it all on the prohibitory law, which prevents them from getting the regulation poison, so they have to take the next nearest of kin. Of course the prohibitory amendment is to blame, just the same as Queen Isabella of Spain was to blame for the Chicago fire, for if she hadn't loaned her jewels to Columbus, he would never have discovered America, and Chicago wouldn't have been built, and there would have been no fire. We don't see why they persist in making such a heroine of Isabella in history, when she was the cause of such an awful conflagration.

The Austrians may be starving, but they are still able to see a joke. They are smiling over a letter that came to Vienna the other day from a woman from the provinces who wrote that she had recently heard some of the compositions of Beethoven and wanted her daughter to take lessons from him. The postal authorities delivered the letter at the house where Beethoven died, 92 years ago. The carrier might have delivered the letter where Beethoven now is, but that would have been carrying a joke too far.

The assertion is made on good authority that 300,000 American Indians want to become citizens. Whether they are fitted for it or not, 30,000 of their children are without school facilities. During the war these people gave $20,000,000 for Liberty Bonds, and 10,000 volunteered for the army.

Pope Benedict XV must be a lover of animals since he has recently, through Cardinal Gasparri, made a contribution to the Roman Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals of two hundred dollars, expressing the hope that this gift might encourage others throughout the world to help on all such benefit work.

The United States continues its shameful record of lynchings, burnings at the stake, breaking into prisons to seize those awaiting trial, that they may be murdered in cold blood. Nearly all these unhappy victims are negroes, but American citizens as truly as the proudest U. S. senator whose peace of mind only an occasional murder in Mexico can disturb.

The famous horses of St. Mark's, now that the war is over, are back again in their old places. How fortunate that the almost prohibitive price of hay and grain in Venice has meant nothing to them! Beautiful as they are they have been rather unstable.

The following is one of the inducements offered by the U. S. Navy to the young men of the country to join it: "Learn to 'parley-voo' in gay Paree. See the bull-fights in Panama." With such high-minded appeals to their manhood it is strange the lists are not filled at once!

Pomona offers $10 for the best booster slogan, competition to be open to the world. Stipulation ought to be made that the prize is to be paid in American money, if much competition is to be expected from foreign countries.

A man walking along the street at Venice the other day fell on his hip pocket and several stitches had to be taken in him where broken glass cut him.

Wonderful Opportunities in the Automobile Field

The history of American industries shows nothing which can compare with the rapid growth of automobile manufacturing. In the past few years a wonderful industry has been developed. In the United States alone there are over 500 factories at work on automobile construction, representing a capital of about $2,000,000,000. Besides there are about 32,000 dealers in the United States employing several hundreds of thousands of men and women.

The development of automobile delivery trucks and light wagons is proceeding rapidly and every year sees the introduction of new makes in large numbers.

The demand from factories, garages, and salesmen for trained men is a direct result of this marvelous growth. The supply of such men is small—their pay correspondingly high. This is the field of opportunity you can enter through the sure, easy Home-Study Courses of the

International Correspondence Schools
OF SCRANTON, PA.

Hundreds of thousands have proved it. The designer of the Packard "Twin Six" and hundreds of other engineers have climbed to success through I.C.S. help. For 28 years young men in offices, stores, shops, factories, mines, railroads—in every line of technical and commercial work—have been winning promotion and increased salaries through the I.C.S. Over 130,000 men are getting ready right now in the I.C.S. way for bigger jobs ahead. No matter where you live the I.C.S. will come to you. No matter what your handicap or how limited your means, the I.C.S. have a plan to meet your circumstances. No matter how small your previous education, the simply written, wonderfully illustrated I.C.S. textbooks make it easy to learn.
